Jubilee Wedding Of Dr. And Mrs. W. D. Alexander

A great concourse of people, largely made up of the older residents, assembled at the home of Professor William De Witt Alexander, LL. D., Punahou, yesterday afternoon to celebrate the golden wedding of the historian of Hawaii and his amiable spouse. "Mauihia," as the home is named, was appropriately and beautifully decorated, golden colored blossoms giving the prevailing tone. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander received the guests on the lanai under a wedding bell that had been used at former nuptial events including the marriage of W. P. Alexander in 1881 and the golden wedding of D. D. Baldwin in 1907. To the right and left of the honored couple were Hon. H. P. Baldwin and Mrs. S. M. Damon, brother and sister of Mrs. Alexander, heading the receiving party of relatives and participants in the original wedding fifty years ago. Mr. Baldwin was groomsmen on that occasion and Mrs. P. C. Jones and Miss Mary Parker bridesmaids, these ladies being also present at the golden wedding. Among the guests of fifty years ago, besides Mrs. Damon, there were in attendance yesterday Mrs. Sereno Bishop, Mrs. Carrie Hayselden, Mrs. D. D. Baldwin, Miss Frances

Johnson and Mr. Charles Hustace. With the honored host and hostess there were ten in all who participated in the marriage at Lahaina in 1860. On the walls of the dining room were hung time-stained mottoes that did duty at the marriage. They were in letters of fern upon a tapa basis the artist being the lately deceased merchant, William W. Hall, and read thus:

"Abby and William."
"In Union is Strength."
"Two Are Better Than One."

In the same room was laid out Mrs. Alexander's wedding dress, an unpretentious garment of mousseline. Also upon a table were spread many golden presents in coin and kind. Additional gifts were presented at the reception as will be mentioned later. A wedding cake with golden frosting and the dates "1860-1910" was exposed in the parlor and at the close of the reception was cut by the jubilee bride.

Children of the honored couple present and assisting in receiving were Mr. Arthur C. Alexander, Mr. William Douglas Alexander, Miss Mary C. Alexander and Miss Agnes B. Alexander.

"PHONEY" EAGLES IN CIRCULATION

"If you run across a 'phony' ten-dollar piece, take it to United States District Attorney Breckons, for he is the man who is working on the case.

It has just been established that there are numerous bad or partly bad ten dollar gold pieces in circulation and the Federal attorney is on the trail of the counterfeiters or "sweaters."

The imitation or tampered article is very near the true ring and appearance, and even some experts are likely to be deceived.

Breckons this morning would not say in what direction his suspicions were directed, but it is safe to say that it will soon be uncomfortable for those perpetrating the crime against Uncle Sam's credit.

The "phony" coins may be made here or imported from the coast. They may be actual counterfeits, or they may be genuine coins from which considerable of the gold has been sweated.

HOMESTEAD CHANCES FOR ALL CITIZENS

Governor Frear and Land Commissioner Marston Campbell were in extended consultation this morning in regard to proclaiming the opening of drawings of homestead lands.

The governor wishes to thoroughly acquaint himself with all conditions under the new Congressional amendments to the Organic Act before signing the proclamation which throws open the homestead lands.

The Land Commissioner has prepared all preliminaries, having effected blue prints of all lands at present available or surveyed.

"Mr. Campbell has accomplished a great deal of hard work," said the Governor this morning "and has every thing in readiness as near as can be. He has not let the grass grow under his feet."

"This is a new proposition to Hawai," said the Governor, "and there are many things which we will have to look up before issuing a proclamation. I might sign the proclamation tonight or not for two or three days."

Marston Campbell is receiving many petitions for opening of certain lands, but a petition is not a qualified application by prospective homesteaders, and certain blanks have to be filled out and the applicants have to show that they are qualified.

The first lands opened are likely to be taken up by local people, on account of the shortness of the time of advertising, but later there will also be mainlanders coming in as successful applicants and homesteaders who will help build up this community along the line of diversified industries.

PLANTATION IN PANIC OVER ONE MAN'S GUN

Exceptions are overruled by Supreme Court decision today, Justice De Bolt writing the opinion, in Territory vs. Kum Foo Sung.

Defendant was convicted of assault and battery with a stick on C. August Herring. He moved for a new trial on newly discovered evidence.

City and County Attorney Cathcart for Territory; Lorin Andrews for defendant.

The decision says:

Affidavits in support of motion for new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence should show positively, not only that the evidence was not known before the verdict, but that the applicant or his attorney used due diligence to discover and produce the new evidence at the trial.

Affidavits must also show affirmatively that the new evidence is not merely cumulative to the evidence adduced at the trial, not merely impeaching in character and that it is material.

"Lorin Andrews being duly sworn deposes and says: That he is the attorney for the defendant, Kum Foo Sung; that the information contained in the affidavits attached hereto was not within his knowledge at the time of the trial of the above entitled case, and that he had no means of obtaining the same, or reason to believe that such testimony existed before the conclusion of the said case; that after the conclusion of the said case he was informed that one E. K. Bull, manager of the Oahu plantation at Waipahu, had been threatened by said Herring with a revolver, or knew of other persons who had been so threatened; that he at once communicated with the said Bull, who informed him that he personally did not wish to make any affidavit concerning said Herring, as said Herring was a dangerous man, thoroughly irresponsible, and that he knew that if he should make such affidavit said Herring would cause him a great deal of trouble; he, however, informed deponent of the facts which led to the obtaining of the attached affidavits."

The affidavits of the other affiants were, in substance, that Herring was in the habit of carrying a pistol; that he had threatened many people, particularly Chinese, with a pistol; that he had the reputation of having shot the woman with whom he lives; that on one occasion he drove some laborers from certain land with a club, and upon their employer protesting, Herring knocked him down, drew a pistol and threatened to kill him; that he is generally considered a man of bad reputation, always threatening to commit violence on the least provocation, and that the whole community is afraid of him.
